Richmond, VA – The Department of General Services announced today that Office of Fleet Management Services Director Michael Bisogno was named to Government Fleet's “20 Under 40,” which recognizes the next generation of public fleet professionals who are making an impact on the industry.

Bisogno, 33, oversees the maintenance, repair and replacement of a statewide fleet comprised of approximately 4,000 vehicles. Additionally, he manages the fuel contracts, short term rental contracts, and alternative fuel contracts that are used by approximately 300 state agencies and local governments throughout the Commonwealth. These collaborative contracts offer efficiencies and increased buying power for government users.

In the January/February issue of Government Fleet, the industry publication recognized Bisogno for developing “a fuel program that consolidated fuel purchases, offering a simplified experience and lowered prices.”

“It is an honor to have been recognized, and I am excited to be a part of such a dedicated and professional team at the Office of Fleet Management Services that will ensure the Commonwealth is ready to adapt to the changes on the horizon within the fleet industry,” Bisogno said.

Bisogno began working at the Office of Fleet Management Services in 2005 and has served as Director since 2009. He started his fleet management career with Tecom Fleet Services on the Commonwealth Vehicle Management Control Center (VMCC) project. Before that, Bisogno worked extensively in the private sector automotive repair market. Bisogno has earned the Certified Automotive Fleet Manager (CAFM) designation from the National Association of Fleet Administrators and holds a bachelor of science in business administration from the University of North Carolina at Wilmington.
